MISCELLANEOUS SPIRITUAL NOTES

1654: The Twelve Grades of Humility according to St. Benedict in his Rule.¹

1671: ‘Look at [the sacrament of] Penance, equal to [Original] Innocence.

†
†††
†

¹ St. Gaspar Bertoni , following St. Thomas Aquinas, presents these in his Original Constitutions, under Modesty, as a help to Chastity:

121. In the acquisition of this virtue, the confreres are to exercise it through those twelve degrees which the divine Benedict has placed in his Rule, c. 7.

- 1. To be humble not only of heart, but also to show it in one's very person, one's eyes fixed to the ground.
- 2. To speak few and sensible words, and not to be loud of voice.
- 3. Not to be easily moved and disposed to laughter.
- 4. To maintain silence until one is asked.
- 5. To do nothing but what one is exhorted by the common rule of the monastery.
- 6. To believe and to acknowledge oneself more lowly than all others.
- 7. To think oneself worthless and unprofitable for all purposes.
- 8. To confess one's sin.
- 9. To embrace patience by obeying under difficult and contrary circumstances.
- 10. To subject oneself to a superior.
- 11. Not to delight in fulfilling one's own desires.
- 12. To fear God and to be always mindful of everything that God has commanded.

St. Thomas' View: II-II, q. 161: OF HUMILITY a. 6: Whether twelve degrees of humility are fittingly distinguished in the Rule of the Blessed Benedict?
